MAKING A DIFFERENCE

KADLEC

WITH DONOR SUPPORT, WE MAKE A DIFFERENCE BY ENHANCING KADLEC'S ABILITY TO MEET EMERGING HEALTH CARE NEEDS.

Bill Stahl, center, with family members Annie Stahl; Dyan, Evan, Connor and Kelly Woodward; and Billy, Shelby and Abby Stahl.

Dear Friends,

“Thank you!” This is an expression we use after every gift to Kadlec Foundation. In 2011, we had the opportunity to say thank you to more than 1,500 donors! We never get tired of saying “Thank you” and it comes from the heart every time. Many donors make an annual donation and have done so for many years. Others are first time donors who became aware of the role of Kadlec in the region and want to lend support.

It is through each gift that we are able to fulfill our mission: “With donor support, we make a difference by enhancing Kadlec’s ability to meet emerging health care needs.”

Between 2007 and 2009, the community contributed more than $7.4 million for a new pediatric center at Kadlec. In November 2009, the Don and Lori Watts Pediatric Center opened and began providing care to children throughout the region. This is a significant realization of our mission. In late 2010, the Foundation began a capital campaign to expand the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) at Kadlec. This project is being driven by community need! Kadlec is home to the only Level III NICU in southeastern Washington and northeastern Oregon caring for the region’s most fragile babies. This $10 million project will expand the NICU from 17 to 27 bassinets. It’s a close-to-home, high-level care facility for families at a crucial time. At the end of 2011, the campaign crossed the halfway point of our goal. The current plan is to begin construction by the end of 2012, with opening of the new NICU in early 2014.

I am privileged to serve as chairman of the Foundation Board of Trustees. This is a dedicated and hardworking group of community volunteers who strive to fulfill our purpose.

Again, thank you for your outstanding commitment to Kadlec Foundation over the years. With your support, we will continue to make new friends, meet new neighbors and engage new partners – and make a difference in the lives of families throughout the region.

Very truly yours,

William C. Stahl Jr.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Carol Garlick

The expression on Carol Garlick's face lit up as she held three tiny babies – triplets born at Kadlec and initially cared for in the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) before being moved to the Don and Lori Watts Pediatric Center.

For Carol, it is fragile, tiny babies such as these, needing critical care close to home, who inspired her to become the honorary chairwoman of the Kadlec Foundation's fund drive to expand the NICU.

"The care the NICU provides means so much to me," said Carol. "Years ago, we almost lost of one our sons. Having the care that he needed, when he needed it, made all the difference. We understand that."

In 2010, the Washington State Department of Health approved the request by Kadlec to designate 15 of its NICU bassinets for Level III care – the highest level for the most critically ill infants. Kadlec is the only Level

III unit in southeastern Washington and northeastern Oregon. The state approval also gave Kadlec authorization to use another 12 bassinets for Level II care.

While the state approved additional bassinets, lack of space in the current NICU prohibited the necessary expansion. That's when Kadlec Foundation stepped in to spearhead a drive to raise the $10 million necessary to expand the NICU, and Carol became the effort's honorary chairwoman.

"There are so many families who we can serve and who need the care we can provide," she said. "Not just locally, but regionally. I have said that I will do whatever they ask to help make the expansion of the NICU a reality."

As a true friend of Kadlec and the Foundation, Carol Garlick continues to be an example of making a difference in so many ways.

Richard Dicken, Tri-City Herald

Carol and her husband, George, hosted a special guest last fall, the then-reigning Miss America Teresa Scanlan. As a part of that visit, the Garlicks arranged for her to visit Kadlec and spend time with some of the hospital's young patients.

"As Miss America, she served as an ambassador for Children's Miracle Network," said Carol. "We wanted her to see the work that is taking place at Kadlec for our region's children.

"She was overwhelmed at what takes place at Kadlec on an everyday basis," said Carol. "She loved all the children and we had to literally drag her away from the hospital."

Since 2002, the Tri-Cities chapter of Project Linus has delivered to Kadlec over 2,400 new, handmade and washable security blankets to children from birth to 18 who are severely ill or traumatized.

Hundreds of volunteers from throughout the region make the blankets; sometimes as many as three or four work on a single blanket.

Each month, the group distributes blankets to the Birthing Center, Emergency Department, Pediatrics and the NICU at Kadlec.

Imagine, your child is sick, but you don't know what to do. Many parents are challenged when it comes to dealing with their children's illnesses.

It is estimated that more than one in three Americans have below basic or basic health literacy skills, have trouble reading or writing above a third to fifth grade level, and are challenged when it comes to effectively navigating all aspects of the health care system. In an effort to help bridge this communication gap, the United Way of Benton and Franklin Counties is promoting the use of the book "What To Do When Your Child Gets Sick" and the Foundation Board voted unanimously to fund the initial purchase of 500 books.

The book uses short sentences to describe 50 common health problems for children from birth to 8 years of age. It is filled with illustrations and covers topics such as fever, sore throat, cold and flu, and stomach pain. For each condition it answers five questions: What is it? What do I see? What can I do at home? When do I call the doctor or nurse? What else should I know?

In other communities, the book has been effective. A study showed the book reduced hospital emergency room visits by more than 50 percent and saved approximately $550 per family annually in medical expenses.

In the Tri-Cities, books purchased by Kadlec Foundation will be distributed to new parents by public health nurses, teen parent programs and workshops.

"Kadlec has always been very generous in supporting the community," said Becky Gauthier, director of Community Solutions with United Way. "With this contribution, hundreds of parents will be able to be more proactive in their children's health, save money and allow emergency rooms to take care of real emergencies."

It's neighbors helping neighbors, even in the nonprofit neighborhood, to make a difference.

The book is open and has a yellow cover with the title 'What To Do When Your Child Gets Sick'. The man is wearing a dark blue shirt, the woman is wearing a black top, and the girl is wearing a pink top. The baby is wearing a plaid shirt. The background shows a light-colored wall and a potted plant.

Steve and Kathryn King

Partners

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

The dictionary defines “partner” as a person who shares or is associated with another in some action or endeavor. Another definition of partner could be as simple as “Steve and Kathryn King.”

Steve, an accountant by trade, first became involved with Kadlec Foundation as a part of its Planned Giving and Finance committees. Before long, he was asked to be a member of the Foundation Board of Trustees.

When the Foundation began the fundraising effort to build the Don & Lori Watts Pediatric Center, Steve got Kate involved, too.

“We both believe in being active volunteers in our community,” said Kate, “and we chose this because we had experienced a child being ill and needing hospital care. We know how important it is to have that critical care available in a community. We truly believed in it, so it was easy for us to talk about it.”

They have also seen the importance of neonatal intensive care (NICU), something one of their grandchildren needed, so they are back supporting the Foundation’s campaign to expand Kadlec’s NICU. And, they are doing it in a unique way – by means of a charitable gift annuity.

“I am part of the group that presents the quarterly Foundation and Healthy Ages seminars regarding end of life issues. I talk about tax issues and what a person can do with charitable gifts,” said Steve. “Kate and I planned to give a gift toward the NICU campaign, so we decided to use one of the vehicles I talk about in that seminar – the charitable gift annuity. It’s a win-win for both the Foundation and Kate and I. We get the benefit of annuity payments during our lifetime, while the Foundation gets the benefit of the gift. In a sense, it is a partnership.”

Steve recently completed his service on the Foundation Board of Trustees, but he continues to serve on the Kadlec Regional Medical Center board as well as the Kadlec Health System board.

“We believe this community needs high quality medical care,” said Steve. “In order to attract and retain top-notch physicians we need to have a top medical center. It takes work to make that happen, and we think it is important to be a part of those efforts.”

True partners, sharing in a noteworthy endeavor.

Kadlec Foundation is fortunate to have the support of many community partners who initiated fundraising events to support our work. Many thanks to Chest of Hope, City Church and the Trimble Family, McCurley Honda, Project Linus, Safe Kids Coalition, Tri-Cities Radio (94.9 The Wolf), WSU students led by Pedro Guajardo, and Nicole Renard, current Miss Washington’s Outstanding Teen, with her “Coins for Kadlec” drive.

We salute all those who have contributed time, energy and resources as a part of the Kadlec Auxiliary during its over 60 years of service to Kadlec.

In just the past 15 years, the Kadlec Auxiliary has donated over $1 million to Kadlec Foundation. In addition, just one of its services, hospital sewing, saves Kadlec about $100,000 per annum in outsourcing. Without a doubt, that's making a difference! We thank you.

A young boy and girl are playing in a field of tall grass under a blue sky with white clouds. The boy, on the left, is wearing a white long-sleeved shirt and khaki pants. The girl, on the right, is wearing a white dress. They are both holding a large red and white checkered blanket that is blowing in the wind. The background shows rolling hills and a clear sky.
